5 New Places To Eat This Weekend

By Darlene Horn
August 7, 2014

Kearny Mesa: Order customizable pizzas at Pizza Studio's newest outpost. Custom pizzas max out at $7.99 each. Start with your choice of five crusts including a gluten-free version, add unlimited toppings and it's baked in approximately 5 minutes. 4240 Kearny Mesa Rd. Ste. 113.

Ocean Beach: The newest lineup to the Cohn Restaurant Group is OB Warehouse. The globally inspired menu pulls from China, Korea, the Middle East, India, Greece and the U.S.. Think garam masala-dusted scallops and kung pow calamari. 4839 Newport Ave.

Mission Hills: The Patio on Goldfinch replicates the same popular concept as the original restaurant in Pacific Beach, offering creative small plates and entrées from sustainable, farm-to-table providers. We're partial to the octopus. Also look for a curated tequila program and extensive wine and craft beers on tap. 4020 Goldfinch St.

Encinitas: Like its Pacific Beach sister, the Encinitas Fish Shop's menu features fish tacos with your choice of marinade alongside fish 'n chips and oyster beer chasers. 1010 S. Coast Highway

South Park: A mix of Asian influences stretching from sushi rolls to deep-fried shrimp purses are available for lunch and dinner at Fire Horse. The restaurant is still in its soft opening phase. Cosmetic changes are under way. 3019 Juniper St.
